CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

Recently, I heard my son talk about an experience he had when the Coronavirus began. He said his college classes went on-line and he found himself at home with time to burn. He struggled with being frustrated about the whole thing.

So, he took up walking every day. When he would make the loop, he would stop by his 95 year old grandmother's house. And they talked and she talked about the old days. He enjoyed their time together and she absolutely loved their time together. About a month later her mind slipped into dementia.

Do you think God knew that was coming? I do. My son realized that right in the midst of a pandemic, God could move in both of their lives. He found out that good could come out of a hard time. He will move in our lives too.
